About Me

In 1995, my life was on track. My children had just started school and I was preparing to go back to university to study archaeology. It looked like all my dreams were about to come true.

Then, in the spring of 1996, I got what I thought was a really bad case of the flu. It wasn't. After enduring almost a year of intense medical and psychological testing, I was told I had Fibromyalgia and Chronic Fatigue Syndrome.

Life since that diagnosis has been filled with pain, denial, grief, and finally healing. Still, those experiences led me to where I am now. Not only have I learned to manage my symptoms and listen to my body but somewhere along the way I found myself. Today, I look at Fibromyalgia and Chronic Fatigue Syndrome as a gift. In my despair, I couldn't have fathomed this kind of outlook only a few years ago.

I was fortunate. I believe that sometimes the universe gives us a little nudge in just the right direction. This was how I discovered Whole Health Therapy for Fibromyalgia. It all began with my first Reiki course. Finally, after studying 36 different forms of Reiki, I created Reiki for Fibromyalgia. This special blend of Reiki energies is derived from 12 healing frequencies from six different traditions. This formula is the foundation of my three-tiered Whole Health Therapy for Fibromyalgia: Symptom Management, Core Healing, and Self Care.
